

Bradley Ellingboe is Director of Music at St. Paul Lutheran Church in Albuquerque. In addition, he is Professor of Music and Coordinator of Vocal Studies at the University of New Mexico. At the university he conducts the select women's ensemble, Las Cantantes, and the 200-voice University Chorus. Ellingboe selects music for two Kjos series: Music for the Church Year and Music for Women's Choir.

He is also active as a singer and guest conductor. As a bass-baritone, he has performed internationally in opera, oratorio, and recital. He has been soloist under Sir David Willcocks, Gregg Smith, Eric Ericson, and Robert Shaw.

His honors include holding the Regents' Lectureship at the University of New Mexico, and receiving the Medal of Saint Olav from His Majesty King Harald V of Norway for his work with the music of Edvard Grieg.

Ellingboe is a graduate of St. Olaf College and the Eastman School of Music, with degrees in Music Theory and Composition, Vocal Performance, and Choral Conducting. His major teachers have included Kenneth Jennings and Jan DeGaetani.

Ellingboe's compositions/arrangements published by the Neil A. Kjos Music Company include the following:
